

CALIFORNIA UNEMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD

CHANGE IN APPEALS DEADLINES

Effective July 1, 2015, the time limits for filing all appeal in cases involving unemployment insurance benefits and some appeals in cases involving disability and paid family leave benefits have been changed.

For unemployment benefits, the deadline for filing an appeal from a decision of the Employment Development Department (EDD) will change from 20 to 30 calendar days from the mailing date of the notice being appealed.

For disability and paid family leave benefits, the deadline for filing an appeal from a decision of the Employment Development Department (EDD) will not change and will remain 20 calendar days from the mailing date of the notice being appealed.

For unemployment benefits, the deadline for filing an appeal from a decision of an administrative law judge (ALJ) will change from 20 to 30 calendar days from the mailing date of the decision being appealed.

For cases involving disability and paid family leave eligibility, the deadline for filing an appeal from a decision of an administrative law judge (ALJ) will change from 20 to 30 calendar days from the mailing date of the decision being appealed. The cases involving overpayments of disability and paid family leave benefits, the deadline for filing an appeal from a decision of an administrative law judge (ALJ) will not change and will remain 20 calendar days from the mailing date of the decision being appealed.